

The advantages of bigness

Imagine a city as large as Cincinnati, Newark or New Orleans, where every man, woman and child wears eyeglasses.

Then you will realize what it means when we say there are more than 300,000 wearers of M. H. Harris eyeglasses.

But the really interesting thing about that fact is not the large number itself, but what it enables us to do for you who may not be a M. H. Harris patron.

It enables us absolutely without charge to provide for the examination of your eyes the most thoroughly capable eye specialists we can find.

It enables us to have our own lens grinding plants, where we can watch each detail and assume responsibility for correct results.

It enables us to purchase all our materials in enormous quantities at lower prices and give you the benefit of our savings.

It gives us a wider experience in examining eyes and fitting them with proper lenses than any small organization could possibly have. We do not have to experiment—we know.

It places the entire responsibility for pleasing you upon one centralized organization. We have no one but ourselves to blame, so we have to make good.

And in the final analysis "Bigness" never just happens. It is the result of giving satisfaction, which is the BIG thing after all.

May we serve you?

winter underwear, tan like socks, a 7 1/2 hat and a collar, the laundry mark of which may furnish an important clue. He carried two pistols.

The man's hat remained intact. On the sweatband was inscribed the name of "De Luca Brothers, Hatters, 319 South Eighth Street, Philadelphia."

He Stopped His Toe

The police are confident that the plans of the anarchist to blow up the House of the Attorney General and kill its occupants would not have miscarried had he not stubbed his toe on the door. The coping tripped the anarchist, and when he fell the concussion apparently caused the explosion.

It was at first thought that two men had been killed. Later, however, the police definitely established that only one man had been killed.

Dr. C. E. Moore, government explosives expert, said after an examination of the fragments gathered by the police and an inspection of the scene of the explosion that the anarchist had two bombs with him when he approached the home of the Attorney General. It is believed that the man set down one of the bombs, then started forward with the other, then tripped. The explosion of the first bomb set off the second almost simultaneously. The expert estimated that all the man had with him the equivalent of six sticks of dynamite.

The police are uncertain whether the anarchist intended to place both bombs under the Palmer residence or whether one of them was intended for the home of another public official, but they seemed inclined toward the latter view.

The neighborhood in which the explosion occurred is one of the most fashionable in Washington. Two doors away lives Senator Swanson, of Virginia. Directly opposite lives Rear Admiral Theodore E. Jewell. The home of Helmer H. Bryn, government explosives expert; Clarence Hall, of the bureau of mines; Captain H. D. Trowace, of the War Department, and E. Priest, special representative of the Department of Justice in the bureau of mines.

Additional precautions were taken by the police to-day to safeguard public men in Washington. Many homes and public buildings were being guarded. At the Capitol extra police were placed on duty, and the rule against bringing packages of any sort into the Capitol and the House and Senate office buildings was rigidly enforced. The same rule was being applied in other government buildings.

Attorney General Palmer and members of his family took temporary residence with friends in the city. Mr. Palmer himself was early on the scene to-day and personally directed commencement of repair work.

Arrest in Boston; Reward Offered

Two Children of Representative Powers Injured by Flying Glass

Special Correspondence
BOSTON, June 3.—The arrest of one man in the bomb outrage, the offer of a $1,000 reward by the District Attorney and Governor Coolidge's action for sterner penalties for anarchists were the features to-day in the two bomb outrages here.

The man arrested was Ernest Caudet, of 312 Dudley Street, a burly, who was captured in a raid on his home, in which a mass of anarchistic literature was seized by the police. One other man was arrested, but released after he had been questioned. Agents of the Department of Justice visited Clinton, believed to be headquarters of an anarchistic band, and where a quantity of dynamite was recently stolen from a contractor.

District Attorney Nathan A. Tufte, of Middlesex County, offers $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the blowing up of the home of State Representative Leland W. Powers, at 66 Beaumont Avenue, Newtonville.

Judge Hayden Tells Why
Judge Albert F. Hayden, of the Roxbury Municipal Court, whose home at 11 Wayne Street, Roxbury, was wrecked, issued a statement to-day, in which he declared that revenge for the sentences imposed on Roxbury May Day rioters was the motive which prompted the anarchists to single him out. Judge Hayden and his family escaped injury through the fact that they had gone to their summer home in Plymouth. Two children of Representative Powers were cut by flying glass in the explosion and more than $10,000 worth of damage caused to his residence.

Representative Powers was singled out as a victim of the bomb terrorists because of his activities on the anti-anarchy bill which he had pressed in the Legislature.

Governor Coolidge prepared to-day to ask the Legislature to enact an emergency statute providing for sterner penalties for bomb outrages. Under the present anti-anarchy law individuals convicted are subject to a fine of $1,000, three years' imprisonment or both.

Attorney General Attwell said that, as no life was lost in last night's explosions, any persons arrested in connection with them would probably be held on the charge of the destruction of property. In that case, their maximum sentence, under existing laws, would be ten years in prison.

Governor Issues Statement
Governor Coolidge issued a statement characterizing the bomb outrages as calculated to injure ultimately the wage-earning class.

"Every citizen," said the Governor, "should be made and will be made to apprehend the perpetrators and bring them to justice. This is not a crime against a particular individual, nor is it what the perpetrators claim, namely, that this will effect distinctively those who own property, and bring about a new order of things. It is a crime against the people of the Commonwealth, and it carried to its logical conclusion, the first sufferers would be those of slender means who live by their daily toil. It would stop every business activity, paralyze all industry and bring to the verge of destitution, as it has done in Russia, every person without independent means."

"The wage earners of Massachusetts," I know, will especially support the authorities in the effort to prevent such action in the future and to punish all who are guilty of the outrages of last night."

Mayor Peters said he believed that our present social and industrial conditions must be improved. He said there must be a more equitable distribution of the results of labor, but our form of government makes it possible to bring about these improved conditions in an orderly and sane manner, and in accordance with the will of the majority.

Work in Vain on Philadelphia Clew

Detectives Fail to Find Identity of Man Who Set the Palmer Bomb

Special Correspondence
PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Despite the report from Washington that the man killed in the bomb explosion there last night had worn a hat with a Philadelphia hatter's mark, and the fact that two men known to the police as anarchists are said to be absent from this city, the authorities are not prepared to accept the theory that the wholesale bomb outrages were planned here.

"If we knew the terrorists used Philadelphia as a base of operations it would be a comparatively easy matter to apprehend the guilty ones," said Police Superintendent Robinson.

After twenty hours of untiring investigation the police have only meagre clues upon which to work—the hat found in Washington and the missing anarchists. The latter is regarded by the police as the more important, but it is admitted that up to the present there is nothing tangible upon which to base a theory in regard to the two bomb outrages here. In both cases it is believed the Reds used swift automobiles, driving away at high speed as soon as the bombs were planted.

Search Italian Quarter
Detectives came from Washington to-day and searched through the Italian section in the hope of establishing the identity of the man who was blown to bits in the explosion at the home of A. Mitchell Palmer. It is believed that he boarded a train leaving the Baltimore & Ohio station here at 7:10 p. m., Monday, to go to Washington.

A thorough search of all garages in the city is being made in an attempt to find the black touring car with yellow wheels, believed to have been used by the "reds." The theory of the police is that the home of Louis Jagielky was

PLAIN WORDS.

The powers that be make no secret of their will to stop, here in America, the wide spread of revolution. The powers that be must be reckoned that they will have to accept the fight they have provoked.

A time has come when the social question's solution can be delayed no longer; class war is on and cannot cease but with a complete victory for the international proletariat. The challenge is an old one, oh "democratic" lords of the autocratic republic. We have been dreaming of freedom, we have talked of liberty, we have aspired to a better world, and you jailed us, you clubbed us, you deported us, you murdered us whenever you could.

Now that the great war, waged to replenish your purses and build a pedestal to your selfish, in over, nothing better can you do to protect your stolen millions, and your usurped fame, than to direct all the power of the murderous institutions you created for your exclusive defense, against the working multitudes rising to a more human conception of life.

The jail, the dungeons you reared to bury all protesting voices, are now replenished with languishing conscientious workers, and never satisfied, you increase their number every day.

It is history of yesterday that your gunmen were shooting and murdering unarmed masses by the wholesale; it has been the history of every day in your regime, and now all prospects are even worse.

Do not expect us to sit down and pray and cry. We accept your challenge and mean to stick to our weapons. We know that all we do is to protect your defense as a class; we know also that the proletariat has the same right to protect itself, since their class has been sufficed, their mouths muzzled, we mean to speak for their voice, of dynamite, through the mouth of guns.

You say we are acting cowardly because we keep in hiding, do not say it is abominable, it is war, class war, and you were the first to wage it under cover of the powerful institutions you call order, in the darkness of your laws, behind the guns of your benevolent slave.

No liberty to you accept but yours; the working people also have a right to freedom, and their rights, our own rights we have set our minds to protect at any price.

We are not many, perhaps more than you dream of, though but are all determined to fight to the last, till a man remains buried in your jails, till a hostage of the working class is left to the tortures of your police system, and will never rest till your fall is complete, and the laboring masses have taken possession of all that rightly belongs to them.

There will be no bloodshed, we will not dodge, there will have to be murder, we will kill, because it is necessary, there will have to be destruction, we will destroy to the world of our kind.

We are ready to do anything and everything to suppress the capitalist class, but we are doing anything and everything to suppress the proletarian revolution.

Our "mutual position" is pretty clear. What has been done by us so far is only a warning that there are friends of popular liberties still living. Only now we are getting into the fight, and you will have a change to see what liberty-loving people can do.

Do not seek to humiliate us, we are the German of the devil's card agents; you know well we are class conscious men with strong determination, and no vulgar liability. And never hope that your cops, and your hounds will ever succeed in riding the country of the anarchistic germ that pulses in our veins.

We know how we stand with you stand with you and know how to take care of ourselves.

Besides, you will never get all of us, and we multiply nowadays.

Just wait and resign to your fate, since privilege and riches have turned your heads.

Long live social revolution! down with tyranny.

wrecked by a bomb thrown from an automobile to prevent its exploding prematurely in the car itself. Concerning the blast at the rectory of the Church of Our Lady of Victory, it is the opinion of the authorities that the bomb had been planted.

The police have been unable to determine definitely the composition of the infernal machines used by the bombers. Neither have they been able to ascertain whether they were time bombs or whether they were of the hurling of the contrivance and the setting off of the detonating cap. Bits of cotton containing minute crystals were found at the Church of Our Lady of Victory, together with what appeared to be parts of a receptacle, either zinc or steel. These are being analyzed.

Go Over Old Evidence
Superintendent of Police Robinson was in conference several times during the day with the Captain of Detectives Souder, and the evidence gathered in the local police in their investigation of the bomb outrages of last December was gone over.

Immediately after the explosion Monday night Superintendent Robinson issued orders stationing a policeman in front of the home of every judge, prominent citizen and official of the city and country government. A similar order was issued by Assistant Superintendent Mills after last December's explosions. In a number of instances the guards were never removed from the homes.

"We have been in communication with the police of the cities where bombs were exploded last night," Superintendent Robinson said, "and we are cooperating with each other. We will run down every clew we have."

"To-morrow we will attempt to determine the character of the explosive used. We have found some metals which we believe were parts of the machine. These will be examined by an explosives expert of the United States army."

Strike Notices Posted
The Police Department to-day issued orders for the arrest of persons posting red-lettered notices of a general strike on poles and other places throughout the city. The call is for a "general strike to free all political prisoners," and it is the opinion of the police that the agitators aim to inaugurate here a strike similar to the one in Canada.

Anarchists Fail In Deportation Plea

Boston Judge Denies Habeas Corpus Petition of the Philosophic Group

Special Correspondence
BOSTON, June 3.—Habeas corpus petitions of nine alleged anarchists ordered deported by the immigration authorities were denied by Judge Aldrich in the Federal District Court to-day.

Counsel for the petitioners had contended that the acts of Congress of February 5, 1917, and October 16, 1918, empowering the Secretary of Labor to of Police Smith and Detective Inspector Charles N. Sterling to be the only real remedy for the present situation.

"We will get them out of Cleveland," the Mayor said, "but we want to see the country rid of them. Such things as happened last night and the sending of bombs by post must waken the Federal government to the necessity also for tightening up on immigration. This country cannot be made the dumping ground for the radical propagandists of Europe."

Detectives to-night raided an East Side hall and took a dozen men to police headquarters for examination. A red banner found in the hall and forty-five pictures of Russian Bolshevik leaders were also seized. The men represented themselves as students of an automobile school. Detectives found part of an automobile engine in the building.

Chicago Radicals Were Safe in Jail

That Believed To Be Reason No Bombs Were Exploded in That City; 8 To Be Deported

Special Correspondence
CHICAGO, June 3.—Possibility that some of the alleged radicals taken in a raid here several days ago were concerned in the widespread bomb plot was advanced to-day by detectives as the reason no explosions took place here last night. Of the score arrested eight are awaiting deportation.

Following yesterday's raid from Federal officials Chief of Police Garity remained in his office until early this morning directing the work of warning public men to be on guard at their homes and also in receiving mail. Among the first public men to receive warning were Federal Judge K. M. Landis and United States District Attorney Charles F. Cline. W. T. Brown, assistant postmaster, said that since the previous bomb outrages the postal authorities had not relaxed vigilance in scrutinizing all mail.

Boy Scouts Summoned In War Against Reds

Bolshevism Can Be Beaten by Proper Training of Youth, J. E. West Tells Bankers

Bolshevism will be the next target for attack by the Boy Scouts of America. The boys, who have been called upon by William G. McArdoo to Americanize America, now have been asked to combat the tendency toward Bolshevism because of the latest bomb outrages here and elsewhere.

James E. West, speaking at a meeting at the Bankers' Club yesterday, said the Boy Scout organization was a weapon that could and should be used against dangerous radicals here.

"We can nip this thing in the bud," said Mr. West, "if we give our boys the proper training. The forces of unrest that are at work in the world to-day to destroy property and human life, to tear down existing forms of government and to plunge us into the state of anarchy and bloodshed that is now active in countries in the Old World must be dealt with firmly. Our organization has a wonderful record for combatting such forces."

This latest outrage is a challenge to organized society it is also a challenge to every patriotic movement like our own.

"It is our duty as American citizens to send back the proper answer and let it be measured in terms of undivided service to this organization of American youths."

"June 11th, Prepare" Warning Received by Cincinnati Company

Special Correspondence
CINCINNATI, June 3.—The accidental discovery of a letter addressed to a man in Cincinnati suspected of being a pro-German and an anarchist started an inquiry late to-day. The letter was addressed to a former employer of the writer.

It contained a single sheet of paper, on which was printed the calendar for June. A red line was drawn around Wednesday, the 11th, and extended to the margin, where the word "Prepare" was written.

The suspect left the firm some time ago. The belief was expressed that the bomb plot may have been arranged in weekly cycles, with the first series this week; the second, in the Middle West, next week, and a third, in the Far West, the following week. They believe that the day June 11, indicated on the calendar, is to be of some special significance in Cincinnati.

Bombs Charged To Immigration

Morrison Blames National Policy for Opening Doors to Anarchists

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Secretary Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement on the bomb outrages, to-day declared the country was reaping the result of its immigration policy.

"The attempted destruction of life and property should cause calm reflection, rather than hysteria, on the part of every American," said he.

"I can understand why the Nihilist of Russia used bombs, but this method can have no place in American institutions. And when they are used it is our patriotic duty to inquire why."

"For years the trade union movement has urged restriction of immigration, but the workers were opposed by steamship companies, the steel trust and other employers of labor who stimulated immigration at the rate of 1,000,000 persons a year. Many of these immigrants were herded in large cities or other industrial centers. They were encouraged to use their own language and to perpetuate traditions of their mother country. At election time, in innumerable instances, they were voted on bloc, and if they would organize a trade union or suspended work to stop exploitation, they were enjoined, clubbed and jailed."

"Bomb throwing is always a challenge to organized society, and should be met in that spirit. But the question must be traced back to its root and treated accordingly. Americanism must be more than a shibboleth. It must mean education, opportunity and social justice for all. We must visualize our declarations and our beliefs that injustice has no place on American soil. In this soil, bomb throwing will wither and die."

Burleson Denies Story He Fears Anarchists

New York Tribune Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Postmaster General Burleson has received many threats, some from women, but he never gave any interviews about them nor is he afraid of their authors.

The Postmaster General said this in a statement to-night, denying he ever had said the things quoted in a late edition of an afternoon newspaper. After turning the denial over to his publicity department the Postmaster General ordered his carriage and went to A. Mitchell Palmer's house to inspect the ruins.

Paterson Police Seek Two Suspects

PATERSON, N. J., June 3.—City and county police officers, with the cooperation of detectives from New York City, are following two leads developed to-day following the explosion of a bomb last night at 334 East Thirty-first Street. They are convinced the explosion was part of a widespread anarchist plot, and the purpose of the element in the recent silk strike. They local attack was to avenge the radical believe the bomb was meant for John J. Fitzgerald, secretary of the Paterson Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Fitzgerald scouted the idea, believing the "reds" would know he no longer lived at the Thirty-first Street address.

"I am sure it was not meant for me," he said to-day. "I am a poor man myself. I am in no way connected with the silk industry, and I am not a capitalist."

Two persons are being sought by the police. One is the man who called at the house which was later bombed and asked for Harry Klotz, president of the Shuana Silk Company. He said he had come to return a railroad ticket. Mr. Klotz knows of no one that could have a ticket belonging to him. Above the floor occupied by the Klotz family lives Max Gold, of the Kingston Silk Company.

Another person the police want is the middle-aged Italian who was seen lurking in the driveway between the damaged house and the one next door. Miss Nellie Taylor, of 455 East Thirty-first Street, saw him while on her way home with a young woman companion, and thought his actions suspicious. Both the suspected persons looked like Italians, according to reports.

Man Arrested at Home Of Cardinal Gibbons

Police Guard Placed at Many Places in Baltimore After Midnight

Special Correspondence

BALTIMORE, June 3.—Chief of Police Carter at 1 o'clock this morning assigned special police details to the homes of persons he thought might be the objects of bomb attacks. Men were hastened to the homes of Cardinal Gibbons, Mayor Broening, Federal Judge John C. Ross, District Attorney Samuel K. Dennis and United States Senator John Walter Smith. All the public buildings are specially guarded, also.

A squad of police sent after midnight to guard the residence of Cardinal Gibbons arrested Charles Hobson, of St. Louis, who was seen to enter the vestibule of the Cardinal's home about 2 o'clock.

When arrested Hobson could give

BUFFALO, June 3.—A school for instruction in the manufacture and use of bombs has been discovered here, the Buffalo police believe. No arrests have been made, but a number of drawings alleged to be designs of infernal machines have been seized.

Guards have been placed at Mayor Buck's residence and extra detectives and police have been detailed to the city hall.
